In Guyana, residential and industrial power meters can be purchased from online retailers such as Desertcart. For example, a Single Phase Energy Meter DIN Rail Power Meter (kWh meter) is designed to measure AC voltage, current, and power consumption, suitable for both home and industrial applications. It supports a voltage range of 80–300V and a maximum current of 100A, making it versatile for various setups .

Features

- Measurement Capabilities: Voltage, current, and power consumption
- User-Friendly: One-click data switching and clear LED display
- Safety: Robust design for safe operation

- Installation: DIN rail mountable, compatible with standard electrical panels

Pricing and Purchase

- The price range for such meters in Guyana is roughly GYD 25,000–35,000 depending on the model and supplier .
- Delivery: Many online retailers, including Desertcart, offer free delivery across Guyana.
- Returns and Exchange: Easy returns are typically available if the product is defective or incompatible .

Additional Considerations

- For official utility meters installed by Guyana Power and Light (GPL), the cost is generally included in the electricity service setup, and customers do not purchase these meters directly .
- If you are considering a meter for monitoring your own energy usage, commercial meters like the DIN rail type are suitable and provide detailed readings for voltage, current, and kWh consumption. In summary, for personal or industrial monitoring, expect to pay around GYD 25,000–35,000 for a reliable power meter in Guyana, with convenient delivery and installation options available through online retailers .
